FOR the next few days we have arranged a sale of LADIES', MISS ES' AND CHILDREN'S COATS in several of the styles, the sale lots comprising a number of special purchases just sent us by our eastern buyer. If you intend buying a coat, this is an opportunity which you cannot afford to miss as we are confident that if you take advantage of this special sale, you will go away satisfied that you possess one of the greatest values ever offered in garments of this kind. We have a large and varied assortment to select from.

A Reduction of 15% on all Cloaks and Overcoats

THIS store does not invite public patronage merely upon the plea that it has just clothes to sell and must sell them, but upon the absolute assurance of greater values. The magnitude of our Overcoat stock is an inspiration to the man or young man whose mind is not just made up as to what he wants, and our values a great inducement to buy. Our Overcoats look well, wear well, fit well, and we honestly believe them to be the best Overcoats to be found in Chariton county. Materials are of a quality usually found in garments at a much higher price.

Had it in for Apples.

It is an unexplained and lamentable fact that the apple crop this year is the greatest in all Missouri history and that the prices are the lowest—so low indeed that many farmers did not attempt to gather them. At a Republican meeting in Pettis county, Mo., recently the orator was serving out the usual dish of presidential praise. "Think what high prices for farm products you have received during Roosevelt's administration," he said. "Look at the high hogs and high cattle he has made." Thereupon a voice from the back of the room asked: "What in the h— has he got against apples?"

Curious Little Animals.

A naturalist at Hanover, Cape Cod, describes many remarkable small animals which abound there. Among them is a gecko, called by the Dutch farmers "getje," whose tail comes off with a slight touch, and remains jumping about on the ground, attracting the attention of an enemy, while the animal itself slinks away and eventually grows a new tail.
